

Bereavement Support Policy

How we can help

We understand that taking care of your loved one's affairs can be stressful and overwhelming in the event of a death. Our friendly customer service team is here to make it as easy as possible, supporting you each step of the way.

We will treat you with respect and compassion and provide clear and accessible information in an appropriate way. Once notified of a customer's death, we will work with you to:

- Transfer the ownership of any services you wish to keep active.
- Cancel or disconnect any services you wish to close.
- Assess, and where appropriate, adjust any cancellation fees due to the disconnection of services (eg: early termination fees); and
- Provide payment assistance where appropriate as we understand that your situation may make it hard for you to pay bills. Let us know if this is the case, so we can help you.

Who has authority to access an account and request changes

Next of kin, Personal representative or Executor

When we receive a request from a person authorised by a will, a person identified as a next of kin on the death certificate or other official document acceptable to us, or a person who has applied for letters of administration, we will, within 10 business days of receiving the necessary information:

- Begin processing your request.
- Contact you for any additional information if necessary; and
- Notify you once the account is finalised. This may take longer than 10 business days for complex cases.
